

That the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. The Indiana no-telemarketing law has improved my quality of life and free time and not getting upset because I have received an unsolicited call during dinner time or any other time for that matter.